Read the notice.

Lam Tin Primary School

Ref: 0077

2nd September 2008

Dear Students,

Welcome to our new school year! I hope you had a good holiday. Before the start of this school year, your teachers and I would like to remind you about CLEANLINESS. A clean school will create a healthy and happy environment. We will study better and learn more if we are healthy and happy.

1. Personal Cleanliness

- a. Please wash your hands frequently. If your hands get dirty or you use the toilet, wash your hands carefully with soap.
- b. If you have a cough or a cold, wear a face mask. If your coughing or sneezing is frequent, do not come to school. We do not want your illness to be passed on to your teachers or classmates.
- c. If you have a fever, tell your parents and do not come to school. If it continues, see a doctor.

2. School Cleanliness

- a. There are rubbish bins in our classrooms and around the school. Please use them and do not litter.
- b. If you need to blow your nose, use a tissue and flush it down the toilet.
- c. From 10th September to 31st October, we will have a 'Clean School Campaign'. Let's keep our school clean together.

Please ask your parents to sign the reply slip and return it to your class teacher by Tuesday, 9th September.

I wish you all a wonderful and healthy school year.

Read the poem.

The Train Ride

Choo! Choo!
'All aboard!' the conductor shouts
Family and friends wave goodbye
As the train begins its ride

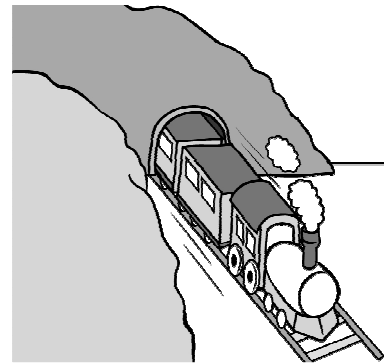

Along a river
And up a hill
Speeding past
A factory mill

Through a tunnel
Across a field
Passing villagers
On bicycles and wheels

Toot! Toot!
The whistle blows
Frightened rabbits
Run into their holes

Over a bridge
And into a forest
Shaking a nest
Of birds enjoying breakfast

Rickety-rick!
The train slows down
It's Central Station
The centre of town!

Part 3

Kate is reading a story about a toy bird.

Read the first part of the story.

The Toy Bird (Part 1)

George and his grandma were walking through the crowded street market. It was filled with people looking for a weekend bargain. George pointed at Wing's Shop. "This store, Grandma! This is my favourite store!" Grandma peered into the busy store. It was packed with people. "Okay, George. You go inside and look around. I'll wait for you outside the florist. I want to get some plants."

5

George pushed his way into the store. The store was cramped. Not only were there many customers but there was little space to move around. On the shelves there were many wonderful things, such as stationery, puzzles, board games and dolls. What George loved about this store was that some of the toys were more than 20 years old. He spent a lot of time looking at each toy one by one.

10

George was still looking when Grandma came into the shop. "Hurry up, George! I still have to buy some food for dinner tonight." George quickly took one of the boxes from the shelf and paid at the counter.

Part 4

Read the second part of the story.

The Toy Bird (Part 2)

When George got home, he ran into his room. He unwrapped the box from Wing's Shop. He began folding the coloured paper – a green body, a red chest, brown feet and yellow feathers. Finally, George finished. The paper bird was beautiful. He hung the bird by his window and proudly looked at it before falling asleep. “Good night, Cherk-Cherk.”

5

The next day, George went to school. When he came home, Cherk-Cherk was missing. “Grandma, have you seen my paper bird?”

“I’m afraid not. Where did you last put it?”

“It was by the window last night...” George saw that the window was open. “Who opened my window? The wind must have blown the bird out of the window!”

10

“Oh, dear. I opened the window...it was so warm...I didn’t...”

George ran downstairs but he couldn’t find Cherk-Cherk anywhere. George was sad and upset. He didn’t eat much for dinner and went to bed early.

The next day when George came home, Grandma was waiting for him with a box. “George, I felt bad about losing your paper bird. So I went back to the market and bought you something.” Grandma gave him the box. He heard a sound coming from the box. “Chirp! Chirp!” George had a big smile on his face.
