Donna : A birthday card! A yellow one. That is my favourite colour.

Tony : But Mum likes dark purple.

Donna : Alright, I will draw a dark purple flower on the card then.

Tony : She likes roses.

Donna : (doubtful) A dark purple rose?

Tony : Never mind. You can draw whatever you like.

Donna : I'd prefer a white rose. I'll also draw a big heart on it.

Tony : You can draw the flower inside the heart.

Donna : Good idea!]

Tony : Hi Mum! It's already 6! When will you come home?

Mother : I'll be in the office for 2 more hours. Can you do some shopping for me please?

Tony : Sure, Mum!

Mother : Write this down. Buy a dozen eggs, large white ones.

Tony : Okay. Anything else?

Mother : A few apples. Buy a bag of 4.

Ah! Don't forget to buy a newspaper for your dad.

Tony : 'Hong Kong Evening Post', right?

Mother : He doesn't like that one. Buy 'The Star Post'.

Tony : Alright, I'll do that.]

(2nd Call) [(Telephone ringing)

Tony : Hello.

Aunt : Hello, Tony. This is Aunt Christina. Is your sister there?

Tony : No, she's out. Can I take a message?

Aunt : Yes, please. This morning I told her to meet me at Ocean Plaza at six forty-five. But I'm afraid I can't arrive on time. Please tell her to meet me at Season Place at seven fifteen instead.

Also remind her to bring her discount card. She wants to buy some skirts. It'll save her money.

Tony : Will do.]

Tony : [Welcome to 'The Lunchtime Show'. I'm Tony Chan. Today we have a special guest, Miss Green.

Miss Green, this is the end of your first year in our school. So altogether, how many years have you been teaching?

Miss Green : I've been teaching for 9 years. 5 years in Australia and 3 years in Europe.

Tony : Why did you choose Hong Kong?

Miss Green : Hmm...because it has a different culture that I want to know more about.

Tony : So do you like Hong Kong?

Miss Green : Oh yes. I'm never bored living in Hong Kong! (excited) There's always something happening here!
